STIPULATION

It is hereby stipulated and ordered by and among the undersigned parties to this action to become bound by the terms of this protective order ("the Order") as follows:

1. As used herein, "Producing Party" shall refer to any person acting on behalf of the Benton County Auditor's office producing information, documents, discovery responses or testimony in connection with this litigation. The "Receiving Party" shall refer to any person named in Section D.5.

A. Definition of Confidential Information.

2. Confidential Information is the Date of Birth ("DOB") designation for each person that is listed in the Voter File maintained by the Producing Party.

B. Designation of Confidential Information.

3. The Producing Party shall designate hard copy documents containing Confidential Information by stamping or otherwise marking every printed page of the document "Confidential" or some similar language. If the documents containing Confidential Information are produced electronically, or in any other form, the Producing Party shall so mark the documents in any reasonable manner appropriate to the form in which they are produced.

C. Use of Confidential Information.

4. The Receiving Party will use the Confidential Information for purposes of this litigation, including investigation and discovery. The Receiving Party agrees not to use the Confidential Information for any purpose not related to this lawsuit. The Receiving Party agrees to destroy all documents containing Confidential Information at the termination of this litigation, including any appeals to this lawsuit, although to the extent the Court is a

1 Receiving Party it may follow its normal procedures for the treatment of materials filed
2 under seal.
3

4
5 D. Disclosure of Confidential Information.
6

7 5. Material that is designated "Confidential Information" may be disclosed
8 solely to the following persons:
9

- 10 (a) Washington State Democratic Central Committee, and its employees
11 and agents.
12
13 (b) Counsel for any Party, the paralegal, stenographic, clerical and
14 secretarial personnel employed by such counsel; and
15
16 (c) Any third-party consultant, investigator, or independent expert
17 retained in connection with this action. Any person in this category
18 will be instructed to keep the Confidential Information confidential,
19 will agree to do so, and will be bound by this Stipulation and Order,
20 although a person in this category may, at the termination of this
21 litigation, including any appeals to this lawsuit, return documents
22 containing Confidential Information to the Receiving Party from
23 which the documents were received for destruction rather than
24 directly destroy the documents pursuant to Section C.4 of this Order.
25
26 (d) the Court, if filed under seal; or

10 E. Exceptions.
11

12 7. Nothing herein shall prohibit a Receiving Party from disclosing a document
13 containing Confidential Information to the person the document identifies as an author or
14 recipient of such document, or to any person (including third-party witnesses) for which
15 prior approval for disclosure has been granted by the Producing Party. A Party's use for any
16 purpose of its own documents, which that Party produces in this action, shall not be
17 considered a violation of this Order. However, nothing herein is intended to modify the
18 parties' respective statutory, contractual, or common law obligations regarding such
19 information.

31 Producing Party (e.g., publicly available criminal or death records).
32
33
34
35
36

37 9. The foregoing is without prejudice to the right of any Party:

- 38 (a) to apply to the Court for a further protective order relating to any
39 Confidential Information for use at trial or relating to any discovery in
40 this litigation;
41
42 (b) to object to the production of documents it considers not subject to 43 discovery; or
44
45
46
47

1 (c) to apply to the Court for an order compelling production of
2 documents or modification of this Order or for any order permitting
3 disclosure of Confidential Information material beyond the terms of
4 this Order.
5
6
7
8

9 F. Miscellaneous.

10 10. In the event anyone shall violate or threaten to violate any terms of this
11 Order, the aggrieved Party may seek any remedy permitted by law, including but not limited
12 to contempt, damages and injunctive relief, and it shall not be a defense to a request for
13 injunctive relief that the aggrieved Party possesses an adequate remedy at law.
14
15
16

17 11. All persons subject to the terms of this Order agree that this Court shall retain
18 jurisdiction over them for the purpose of enforcing this Order.
19
20
21
22

23 G. Agreement to Be Bound.

24 12. This Order may be signed in counterpart by each Party's respective counsel
25 and when signed shall become binding and effective as to each such Party. The Parties
26 agree to be bound by the restrictions in this Order immediately upon signing by both Parties,
27 but this Order will expire if a judge does not enter the Order by April 30, 2005. Upon such
28 expiration, the Receiving Party will return the Confidential Information to the Producing
29 Party and destroy any copies made of the Confidential Information.

31 Producing Party (e.g., publicly available criminal or death records).
32
33
34
35
36

37 9. The foregoing is without prejudice to the right of any Party:

- 38 (a) to apply to the Court for a further protective order relating to any
39 Confidential Information for use at trial or relating to any discovery in
40 this litigation;
41
42 (b) to object to the production of documents it considers not subject to
43 discovery; or
44
45
46
47

1 (c) to apply to the Court for an order compelling production of
2 documents or modification of this Order or for any order permitting
3 disclosure of Confidential Information material beyond the terms of
4 this Order.

9 F. Miscellaneous.

10 10. In the event anyone shall violate or threaten to violate any terms of this
11 Order, the aggrieved Party may seek any remedy permitted by law, including but not limited
12 to contempt, damages and injunctive relief, and it shall not be a defense to a request for
13 injunctive relief that the aggrieved Party possesses an adequate remedy at law.
14
15
16

17 11. All persons subject to the terms of this Order agree that this Court shall retain
18 jurisdiction over them for the purpose of enforcing this Order.

23 G. Agreement to Be Bound.

24 12. This Order may be signed in counterpart by each Party's respective counsel
25 and when signed shall become binding and effective as to each such Party. The Parties
26 agree to be bound by the restrictions in this Order immediately upon signing by both Parties,
27 but this Order will expire if a judge does not enter the Order by April 30, 2005. Upon such
28 expiration, the Receiving Party will return the Confidential Information to the Producing
29 Party and destroy any copies made of the Confidential Information.

STIPULATION

It is hereby stipulated and ordered by and among the undersigned parties to this action to become bound by the terms of this protective order ("the Order") as follows:

1. As used herein, "Producing Party" shall refer to any person acting on behalf of the Whitman County Auditor's office producing information, documents, discovery responses or testimony in connection with this litigation. The "Receiving Party" shall refer to any person named in Section D.5.

A. Definition of Confidential Information.

2. Confidential Information is the Date of Birth ("DOB") designation for each person that is listed in the Voter File maintained by the Producing Party.

B. Designation of Confidential Information.

3. The Producing Party shall designate hard copy documents containing Confidential Information by stamping or otherwise marking every printed page of the document "Confidential" or some similar language. If the documents containing Confidential Information are produced electronically, or in any other form, the Producing Party shall so mark the documents in any reasonable manner appropriate to the form in which they are produced.

C. Use of Confidential Information.

4. The Receiving Party will use the Confidential Information for purposes of this litigation, including investigation and discovery. The Receiving Party agrees not to use the Confidential Information for any purpose not related to this lawsuit. The Receiving Party agrees to destroy all documents containing Confidential Information at the termination of this litigation, including any appeals to this lawsuit, although to the extent the Court is a

1 Receiving Party it may follow its normal procedures for the treatment of materials filed
2 under seal.
3

4
5 D. Disclosure of Confidential Information.
6

7 5. Material that is designated "Confidential Information" may be disclosed
8 solely to the following persons:
9

- 10 (a) Washington State Democratic Central Committee, and its employees
11 and agents.
12
13 (b) Counsel for any Party, the paralegal, stenographic, clerical and
14 secretarial personnel employed by such counsel; and
15
16 (c) Any third-party consultant, investigator, or independent expert
17 retained in connection with this action. Any person in this category
18 will be instructed to keep the Confidential Information confidential,
19 will agree to do so, and will be bound by this Stipulation and Order,
20 although a person in this category may, at the termination of this
21 litigation, including any appeals to this lawsuit, return documents
22 containing Confidential Information to the Receiving Party from
23 which the documents were received for destruction rather than
24 directly destroy the documents pursuant to Section C.4 of this Order.
25
26 (d) the Court, if filed under seal; or
27
28 (e) Court personnel including stenographic reporters engaged in such 29 proceedings as are necessarily incident to preparation for trial, if filed
30 under seal.
31
32
33
34
35
36
37
38
39
40
41
42
43
44

45 6. Any document filed with the Court, or otherwise made public, that includes
46 Confidential Information shall be (1) disclosed with the Confidential Information redacted,
47

1 or (2) if the Confidential Information must be revealed to the Court, filed under seal and
2 labeled as follows: "This Document Is Subject to a Protective Order Issued by the Court and
3 May Not Be Examined or Copied Except in Compliance with that Order." Documents so
4 labeled shall be kept by the Clerk under seal and shall be made available only to the Court or
5 persons authorized by the terms of this Order to have access thereto.
6
7
8
9

10 E. Exceptions.
11

12 7. Nothing herein shall prohibit a Receiving Party from disclosing a document
13 containing Confidential Information to the person the document identifies as an author or
14 recipient of such document, or to any person (including third-party witnesses) for which
15 prior approval for disclosure has been granted by the Producing Party. A Party's use for any
16 purpose of its own documents, which that Party produces in this action, shall not be
17 considered a violation of this Order. However, nothing herein is intended to modify the
18 parties' respective statutory, contractual, or common law obligations regarding such
19 information.
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27

28 8. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Order to the contrary, the 29 obligations of this Order shall not apply, or shall cease to apply, to any voter DOB
30 information that is derived from documents other than the Voter File produced by the 31 Producing Party (e.g., publicly available criminal or death records).
32
33
34
35
36

37 9. The foregoing is without prejudice to the right of any Party:

- 38 (a) to apply to the Court for a further protective order relating to any
39 Confidential Information for use at trial or relating to any discovery in
40 this litigation;
41
42 (b) to object to the production of documents it considers not subject to
43 discovery; or
44
45
46
47

1 (c) to apply to the Court for an order compelling production of
2 documents or modification of this Order or for any order permitting
3 disclosure of Confidential Information material beyond the terms of
4 this Order.
5
6
7
8

9 F. Miscellaneous.

10 10. In the event anyone shall violate or threaten to violate any terms of this
11 Order, the aggrieved Party may seek any remedy permitted by law, including but not limited
12 to contempt, damages and injunctive relief, and it shall not be a defense to a request for
13 injunctive relief that the aggrieved Party possesses an adequate remedy at law.
14
15
16

17 11. All persons subject to the terms of this Order agree that this Court shall retain
18 jurisdiction over them for the purpose of enforcing this Order.
19
20
21

22 G. Agreement to Be Bound.

23 12. This Order may be signed in counterpart by each Party's respective counsel
24 and when signed shall become binding and effective as to each such Party. The Parties
25 agree to be bound by the restrictions in this Order immediately upon signing by both Parties,
26 but this Order will expire if a judge does not enter the Order by April 30, 2005. Upon such
27 expiration, the Receiving Party will return the Confidential Information to the Producing
28 Party and destroy any copies made of the Confidential Information.
